

The Springfield Sun.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY

VOLUME VI.

SPRINGFIELD, KY., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1910.

NUMBER 44

IMPORTANT MEETING

Of The Fiscal Court Held Yesterday.—C. N. Willett Elected Road Supervisor.

The Washington County Fiscal Court held an important and highly interesting session yesterday. After claims had been passed upon the Court took up the election of officers to be elected by this court. The first office was that of road supervisor to which Mr. C. N. Willett was elected. The salary of the supervisor was increased to $1000 per year, but with the provision that he have two assistants, the salary of each of whom shall be $300 per year. It is understood that J. H. Gordon and Clarence Gordon will be Mr. Willett's assistants. Sam Bottom had no opposition for poor house commissioner, while Dr. Hamilton was without a contest for county physician. In the race for poor house keeper a number of men were voted for but the contest finally narrowed down to Verne Aubrey and Ciel Piles, each of whom received three votes. Judge Little casting the deciding vote in favor of Mr. Piles, who was elected. After the election the Court adjourned to meet Nov. 17.

Departure of Rev. G. S. King.

On Sunday last Rev. G. S. King, the reverend pastor of the Methodist church of Springfield, preached his farewell sermon prior to his departure for Elizabethtown, where he will reside for a year at least to recuperate, his health being impaired. The reverend gentleman was visibly moved as he bade farewell to his congregation in the closing sentences of his address, and tears were shed by many of his audience, testifying to the high esteem in which this faithful servant of God was held and to the sorrow they felt at his departure from among them.

Rev. T. J. Wade has been appointed to the Springfield charge by the recent conference and will, probably, occupy the pulpit next Sunday.

The Mystery of Petroleum.

At a recent meeting of a scientific society at Washington one of the members, in discussing the present problems in earth physics, invited attention to a mystery which will assume greater importance as the accessible supply of coal diminishes—the origin of petroleum.

Such vast accumulations of oil as exist in the Caspian and Caucasus regions seem incompatible with the hypothesis that petroleum originates from animal and vegetable remains. Mendeleeff suggested that the source of the oil is the decomposition of iron carbide in the terrestrial crust, but his hypothesis has not been generally accepted. If the origin is not animal or vegetable, then, it is thought, the supply is very likely inexhaustible.

A Remarkable Horse.

Unmindful of the fact that the stone blind "Big Joe," long the motive power for an express wagon and for years working on the Concord line docks, Tuesday of last week trotted from Hendrickson Express Company stables, in West Eighteenth street near Seventh avenue, New York, to a blacksmith shop in Christopher street to have a new shoe put on. The blind horse made the journey all alone and explained that what was wanted to the blacksmith by lifting up his foot and shaking the loose shoe. After the shoe had been put on, the horse made the return trip to the Concord line pier at the foot of West Fourteenth street, where it waited for its driver to come along and hitch it to a truck.

Saved From the Grave.

"I had about given up hope, after suffering nearly four years from a severe lung trouble," writes Mrs. M. L. Dix, of Clarksville, Tenn. "Often the pain in my chest would be so unbearable and I could not do any work, but Dr. King's New Discovery was made me feel like a new person. It's the best medicine made for the throat and lungs. Obsolete coughs, stubborn colds, hay fever, croup, asthma, croup, bronchitis and hemorrhages, hoarseness and whooping cough yield quickly to this wonderful medicine. Try it; 50c and $1.00 Trial bottles free. Guaranteed by Hayden & Robertson.

LOW FIGURE FOR TOBACCO

L. Toewater, of the American Tobacco Company, says $10 or $12 is a Fancy Price.

Mr. F. R. Toewater, leading buyer of the American Tobacco Company, was in this city Thursday and from the conversation he had with Mr. Wallace Rees and others, it does not seem that the price of the 1909 crop of tobacco will be as good as it was last year. In the conversation, Mr. Rees said that Mr. Toewater stated to him that it would take a fancy crop of tobacco to bring $12. Mr. Toewater also stated that it was not probable that the American Tobacco Company would be a bidder for the pooled crop of 1909. He stated to Mr. R. P. Scoobe that an extra good crop would bring ten or twelve cents and an average about eight cents.

Following is the exact conversation which occurred between Mr. Toewater and Mr. Rees.

Mr. Wallace Rees met Mr. Toewater on the streets Thursday and stated to him that he had a crop of tobacco this year and asked what they were going to pay for it. Mr. Toewater stated that they were willing to pay a fair price for the tobacco, but that it all depended upon what a man considered a fair price; that some people considered 15 cents a fair price, but that they considered 15 cents a prohibitive price. Mr. Rees then asked Mr. Toewater how about ten to twelve dollars and Mr. Toewater said that it would take a fancy one to bring it this year. He also said that they considered the pooled crop below the average in quality, therefore could not state what they would pay for that, and in fact said that they would probably not be in the market for that tobacco as they were well stocked.—Washington Daily News.

Exit "Buckskin Charlie"

The show that performed at the Opera House here during last week finished its engagement to a crowded house on Saturday night. The public was well pleased with the exhibit and patronized it liberally. The receipts from the Saturday night performance footed up something like $85. On every night during the week some change was made in the program and taken altogether the show was a good one. It was given out at the last performance that the management was so well satisfied with their reception by the Springfield people, that they would return in about six weeks with a much more pretentious production.

McINTIRE.

Mr. and Mrs. James Edelen, of Oakland, Cal., are here on a visit to the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Edelen.

Mr. Arnold, of East Texas, bought of Frank Keene one suckling mule for $80.

Our hustling young trader, Tom Wheatley has bought about 50 head of cattle in this vicinity which were weighed here last Monday.

Tom Blandford had the misfortune to have a three-year-old steer die recently from some unknown cause. Miss Levery Blandford and Bart Smith, of this place, were quietly married at St. Rose on Tuesday evening last, only a few of their intimate friends being present.

T. E. Ballard sold to John A. Barber one sow and pigs; price unknown.

Miss Lottie Fields visited her sister, Mrs. Herbert Mattingly, at Forest View last week.

Mrs. Will Smith and little son, Marvin, of Loretto, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ensor.

Misses Mattie and Catherine Thompson, accompanied by Miss Minnie Clifton, who have been visiting relatives here for the past week, have returned to their homes near Science Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ciel Pile gave their son a date on last Friday night. The date was much enjoyed by all present.

Len McIntire and Roy Mudd were in Lebanon Sunday last.

Miss Mary Smith has returned from a pleasant visit to relatives in Louisville.

Mrs. Hamilton Young, of Bardonia, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Belle Keene, last week.

T. E. Ballard and James Fields attended court at Lebanon, Monday.

EDELEN--POLIN

Impressive Wedding Ceremony at St. Rose Yesterday—Miss Pearl Edelen and Joseph Polin United.

Probably a more impressive ceremony was never performed in Washington county than the one at beautiful and picturesque St. Rose yesterday morning, whereby Miss Pearl Edelen and Joseph Polin were made man and wife. The ceremony was performed with a nuptial high mass and throughout its duration the most enchanting music was rendered by Miss Cain at the organ. Father J. B. Dawkins, on the violin, and the St. Rose choir, of which Miss Pearl Edelen is soloist. More delightful music, no doubt, never been rendered at a wedding here. Following is the program:

"For all Eternity."
Solo, with Violin obligato.—Miss Pearl Edelen.
Gospel.—St. Matthew.
"Tranquillo."
Violin solos by J. B. Dawkins, the soloist.
March from Tannhauser.

The church had been tastefully decorated for the occasion with plants, amix and ferns, while near the entrance to the church an arch was erected from which a white wedding bell was suspended. Beneath this emblem of purity and happiness the young people stood while Father Gavin pronounced the solemn and impressive words which made man and wife, uniting their lives.

The wedding party formed at the front door and marched from there to the altar. The two brides, Alice Barber and Marshall Duncanson, came first, followed by the groom on the arm of his best man, his brother, John A. Polin; next came the bride with her brother, George Edelen, who gave her in marriage, and lastly the little flower girls, Mary Barber and Corinne McIntire. Just prior to the ceremony the little ribbon bearers, Miss Miller and Master Tom Boldrick, had been escorted to the front bench, where they were with the ushers, attendants and flower girls during the mass, but joined in with the wedding party on the outward march after the conclusion of the service.

The bride was beautiful in a dress of brown silk, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of ferns and carnations, which was augmented by the bouquets presented by the flower girls immediately after the marriage ceremony had been performed. After the wedding the bridal party and members of the two families repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Leachman, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served. Today Mr. and Mrs. John A. Polin entertained the wedding party and a few friends in honor of the newly married couple.

No young people for a long time have plighted their troth to whom the best wishes and the God speed of the community have been given more spontaneously and freely than to Pearl Edelen and Joe Polin. Both popular, both pure and upright, both sprung from honest, honorable and sturdy stock, and best of all, sweethearts from childhood, it was not only by a dispensation of the law and the church that they married, but it was a dispensation of Providence as well. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Point Edelen, and the groom is the son of Squire John O. Polin. Mr. Polin is a member of the local bar, editor of the News-Leader and one of the best known and most popular of the young men of the county.

To our fellow editor and his bride we extend our heartiest congratulations.

Offers $1,000 as a Settlement to Etherington Estate.

The County Commissioners of Licking county, O., have offered $1,000 in settlement of the claim of the estate of Carl Etherington, who was lynched in Newark on the night of July 8. Under what is known as the Eubanks law the county is liable for $5,000, as the law provides that the counties shall pay that amount to the estates of persons lynched within their borders.

Arrangements have been made to begin the trials of those indicted in connection with the lynching. Two common pleas judges are sitting simultaneously in the cases. Assistant Attorney General W. H. Miller is assisting in the prosecutions.

NEW LOOSE LEAF MARKET

Mr. T. Quisenberry Purchases Property Here and Will Open A Tobacco Warehouse.

We are to have still another loose leaf warehouse to assist in handling the tobacco crop of this and adjoining counties during the coming season. Mr. T. Quisenberry has secured the warehouse in the rear of the depot from Mr. J. F. Pettit and will equip for a loose leaf house, and by the beginning of the season Mr. Quisenberry will be ready to handle all the tobacco that may be brought to his house.

This is Mr. Quisenberry's first venture in the tobacco business in Springfield, but not his first venture in the tobacco business, as he has been dealing in the weed for nearly thirty years. During this time he has been connected with some of the best houses in Louisville and was warehouse inspector for the city for four terms. Mr. Quisenberry is not only a competent tobacco man but is an affable gentleman as well and we predict for him a successful year.

THE OLD TIME COUNTY FAIR

Brings Fond Recollections of Pink Lemonade and the Dare Devil Balloonist.

Among the loved spots that our infancy knew, the county fairground was second only to the best houses in Louisville and was warehouse inspector for the city for four terms. Mr. Quisenberry is not only a competent tobacco man but is an affable gentleman as well and we predict for him a successful year.

Is the germ of a gripe; that, bristled in, brings suffering to thousands. Its after effects are weakness, nervousness, lack of appetite, emaciation, indigestion, with disordered liver and kidneys. The greatest need then is Electric Bitters, the splendid tonic, blood purifier and regulator of Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. Thousands have proven the value of this medicine for the nerves, build up the system and restore health and good spirits after an attack of the Grip. If suffering, try them. Only 50c. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed by Hayden & Robertson.

The Demon of the Air.

Is the germ of a gripe; that, bristled in, brings suffering to thousands. Its after effects are weakness, nervousness, lack of appetite, emaciation, indigestion, with disordered liver and kidneys. The greatest need then is Electric Bitters, the splendid tonic, blood purifier and regulator of Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. Thousands have proven the value of this medicine for the nerves, build up the system and restore health and good spirits after an attack of the Grip. If suffering, try them. Only 50c. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed by Hayden & Robertson.

THE NEW YORK SQUABBLE

The Triumph of Roosevelt at the Saratoga Convention Complete and Portentous.

The victory of the Progressive Republicans in the New York convention at Saratoga was complete. The ample majority of 125 by which Colonel Roosevelt was chosen temporary chairman marked the adoption of a progressive platform, the nomination of a progressive candidate and the passage of the party organization over to the permanent control of the progressive element.

The "old guard" goes off the stage and brings to the front the men who have supported Governor Hughes and his policies. The heritors of the old political tradition, who traded in legislation, who received thousands of dollars "campaign" checks or were "retained" to look after legislation, will disappear from the scene. The new men have new ideas and a different conception of political morality. The only "interests" which the new leaders of the party will know are the interests of the people.

It is to be regretted that Mayor Gaynor has decided not to be the candidate of the new democracy of New York. His great career in the metropolis would have given him prestige with the voters of the State and he would have been in all probability the next Governor and a formidable Presidential candidate. And whether Republicans or Democrats won the people could have been assured of an administration in their interests.

For both parties in New York, it was fortunate that the insurgent fight was fought out to the end. There was no compromise and there should have been no compromise. The result was the same fight has just ended in many of the Western States. In Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas and California there was aggressive leadership with a spectacular fight; in Minnesota as the result of the direct primaries, democracy also won without any flaring of trumpets.

The great contest from one end of the Union to the other has raised the tone of politics in both the old parties. It has advanced the cause of the people to take the side of the people against the "interests."—Winchester Daily News.

A Good Position.

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the eight of wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month with good chances for advancement.

At the Star, to whom a farm wife learns some h. g. about the washer that can be hitched to the windmill, the new automatic breadmaker and the hundred and one things that are making the old stories of farm wives instantly a myth. The State fair has made the Ruble who had stuff in him a Progressive Citizen. The other fellow was hopeless anyway.

When the old adage that "Uncle Sam had a farm for every man" was a common slogan, the American farmer was a careless, independent, wasteful tiller of the soil. "You can't tell me anything about farms," said an old, good-natured rural Yankee. "I've used up three acres of land, and I've never seen a farmer who has not been ruined by the ruin of his population. It is no longer easy to find new homestead farms. The virgin fields are cleared.—Collier's Weekly.

Worse Than Bullets.

Bullets have often caused less suffering to soldiers than the eczema. L. W. Harriman, of Burlington, Me., got in the army, and suffered with forty years. "But Buckle's Arnica Salve cured me when all else failed," he writes. G. Easton, of New York, writes: "It cures cuts, wounds, bruises and piles. 25c at Hayden & Robertson's."

Your cough annoys you. Keep on hacking and tearing the delicate membrane of your throat if you want to be annoyed. But if you want relief, want to be cured, take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all druggists.

SIGNIFICANCE OF STATE FAIRS

Great Public Educators and of Inestimable Value to the Agriculturist.

Every financial and industrial enterprise is directly or indirectly dependent upon the triumph of the agriculturist. When the fruits of the field are gathered there is reason to rejoice. The farmer does not depend upon Wall Street—Wall Street depends upon the farmer. The great State fairs at Syracuse and Minneapolis represent the biggest things in New York and Minnesota. This was not true a quarter of a century ago. Then the so-called State fair was the land agents' show, where the shell-game operated undisturbed by police interference and the book m men plundered the half-intoxicated men who were easily induced to play the game.

Under the present, short sighted and thoroughly immoral administration of private jockey clubs and crooked speculators the alleged "State fairs" fell into such disrepute about twenty-five years ago that the farm journals took up an energetic editorial campaign against them—appealing to the people not to endorse them by their patronage and calling upon the State Legislature to forbid these private organizations to use the name of the State.

In Minnesota this campaign became acute about twenty years ago. The Twin City Jockey Club then ran the "Minnesota State Fair." When it was deprived of the privilege of using the State name its secretary said: "Let 'em have a fair run on Sunday-school hours. There won't be enough people there to trample upon the grass."

The State took a hand. An educational show took the place of the former one. The old booths, side shows, unlicensed bars and betting booths, disfigured and stately agricultural and horticultural buildings were constructed on costly and pretentious plans. Live-stock amphitheaters, dairy, poultry, manufacturers' and machinery buildings decorated the well-kept grounds that were soon intersected by smooth concrete walks, sewers, and electric wire conduits.

Under the present, short sighted and thoroughly immoral administration of private jockey clubs and crooked speculators the alleged "State fairs" fell into such disrepute about twenty-five years ago that the farm journals took up an energetic editorial campaign against them—appealing to the people not to endorse them by their patronage and calling upon the State Legislature to forbid these private organizations to use the name of the State.

At the Star, to whom a farm wife learns some h. g. about the washer that can be hitched to the windmill, the new automatic breadmaker and the hundred and one things that are making the old stories of farm wives instantly a myth. The State fair has made the Ruble who had stuff in him a Progressive Citizen. The other fellow was hopeless anyway.

When the old adage that "Uncle Sam had a farm for every man" was a common slogan, the American farmer was a careless, independent, wasteful tiller of the soil. "You can't tell me anything about farms," said an old, good-natured rural Yankee. "I've used up three acres of land, and I've never seen a farmer who has not been ruined by the ruin of his population. It is no longer easy to find new homestead farms. The virgin fields are cleared.—Collier's Weekly.

Worse Than Bullets.

Bullets have often caused less suffering to soldiers than the eczema. L. W. Harriman, of Burlington, Me., got in the army, and suffered with forty years. "But Buckle's Arnica Salve cured me when all else failed," he writes. G. Easton, of New York, writes: "It cures cuts, wounds, bruises and piles. 25c at Hayden & Robertson's."

Your cough annoys you. Keep on hacking and tearing the delicate membrane of your throat if you want to be annoyed. But if you want relief, want to be cured, take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all druggists.

WALTER McLAUGHLIN'S HAND-MADE 5 CENT CIGARS

'MYRA' — 'AN SONIA'

TRY THEM AND SEE.

FOR SALE AT ALL CIGAR STANDS

SPRINGFIELD SUN

ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION. — ONE DOLLAR.
(In Advance.)
H. L. SMITH, Editor and Publisher.

Entered at the postoffice at Springfield, Ky., for transmission through the mails as second-class matter.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One Year.....$1.00
Six Months......75
Three Months......50

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS:
HON. BEN JOHNSON.

THE LOS ANGELES DISASTER.

The destruction of the Times building and plant at Los Angeles, Cal., the other day, by which several of the employees lost their lives, was a crime that all Americans will denounce.

The proprietor of the Times newspaper, Gen. Otis, has laid the blame upon the labor unions, because he has been antagonizing labor for over twenty years. It is possible, but hardly probable, that members of some labor union may have committed the crime, but to attempt to attach the diabolical deed to the typographical union is wrong. It must be borne in mind in this connection that a great majority of the vast army of printers in the United States are of the highest type of law and order citizens, being native born Americans, and as such, deprecate violence in any form while struggling for their rights. Last night's Louisville Times states it as follows:

"Common justice has less than common sense; was it to be believed that these accusations were based on nothing substantial or, even, probable; they are the excited outpourings of men lately escaped from death and disaster, seeking blindly for a clew, a cause, or a motive, and predisposed by training and prejudice to lay the blame at the door of those they had antagonized. Nothing more.

"It was hardly necessary," continues the Times, "for the typographical unions to renege their deed and deny any share in its planning, however remote; no thinking man would harbor such an idea for a minute. But their prompt and business like proposal to help hunt down the miscreants does them credit."

This is exactly the view the Sun takes of the matter and if the investigation now in progress should bring the crime home to members of any union, it is generally believed that it will be found in the foreign element that has been enabled to affiliate with many of the labor organizations. But as the Times was the foe of white labor in California, organized and unorganized, a very wide scope is offered for conjecture. Hasty conclusions, however, should be repudiated, no matter from whom they emanate, and the results of the investigation will be awaited patiently.

THE LAW AND THE EVIDENCE.

The following statement only goes to show that newspapers have no option in the matter of subscriptions. The Federal Postoffice Department has promulgated a law governing the matter and all newspapers are compelled to obey this law or forfeit their right to second class rates. Many people will, and do, suppose that the publishers are responsible for the new order of things, but this is erroneous as the orders from the Post Office Department at Washington and these orders are imperative. Glance over what has already been done by other papers in the State and govern yourselves accordingly. The Sun has time and again urged upon its subscribers the necessity of meeting their obligations and while some have heeded the call, there are still many on the list delinquent and this final appeal is made ere their names must be stricken from the list.

The following concerning a matter of the utmost importance to the entire newspaper fraternity, as well as to many newspaper readers, is taken from a recent issue of a Cincinnati paper. When it is understood by the reader that the success of any newspaper is dependent wholly upon its use of the mails, and that without this privilege the paper cannot exist, one can better understand how very important the matter is to the publisher.

"It is a very dangerous business for the publisher of a weekly newspaper to send papers to subscribers who are more than one year in arrears. Special agents for the postoffice department are traveling over the country, dropping in on newspaper offices when least expected and examining subscription lists to ascertain if the regulations, promulgated two years or more ago, requiring payment of subscriptions are being observed. To be deprived of the second class mailing privilege, which is the penalty for non-compliance with the rulings, puts a newspaper out of business, for a paper cannot stand the expense of placing a one-cent stamp upon each paper mailed, and live. No weekly newspaper can afford the expense.

"Several Illinois publishers have recently been visited by inspectors. They were called upon for a certified copy of their subscription lists, and as a result at least one of these publishers was cited to appear in Washington to show cause why his list was not as well paid up as the law requires."

Continuing the Cincinnati paper says: "It seems a bit tough that publishers of weekly newspapers have to be hauled up before the Government under the charge of violating Federal laws just because they do not require their subscribers—it matters not how good they may be—to pay their subscriptions promptly. But it is like the end of the world, no one knows when it comes, and no editor knows where it will appear or may call in and examine his list."

The Glasgow Times a few days ago was officially notified by compliance with the ruling, and once announced that all subscribers one year or more in arrears would be dropped unless the subscriptions were paid within the next thirty days. "Remember," says the Times, "it is the United States Government doing this and not the Times."

In order to be on the safe side the Campbellville Enquirer has taken time by the forelock. In the last issue it says: "On account of the law which compels publishers to omit from their lists subscribers whose subscriptions have been unpaid for a year, 300 names have been taken off the Enquirer's mailing list."

The Harrodsburg Herald says: "The law is not a bit more palatable to us than it is to our subscribers. However, we can serve them only by using the mails, and as the Government owns these we must abide by the rulings. Thus we are up against it. The condition is one our subscribers can prevent while we are powerless and helpless. An inspector may drop in on us any day and cut our list mightily, and perhaps even refuse us the use of the mails. If the name of any particular subscriber is dropped please be good enough not to blame us, but remember we cannot fight 'Uncle Sam.'"

Farm for Sale,

Containing about 100 acres, 45 acres in grass, 8 or 10 in timber, never failing water, frame dwelling, good barn, 1 mile from railroad, convenient to school, church, etc. For further information call on

Dr. E. L. McINTYRE,
WOODLAND,
KENTUCKY.

The Sun and Courier-Journal, $1.50

Notice.

Hennessy & Baker having dissolved partnership have placed in my hands for collection all accounts for seasons to their Horses and Jacks and to the Jack "Stonewall." All persons indebted to them will please come to see me at once and settle, or I shall have to take legal steps to collect the unpaid accounts.

MARSHALL DUNCAN.

Keep Sickness Out of Your Poultry Yard.

The best way to keep sickness out of your poultry yard is to keep ESSO Chicken Charcoal where your birds can get it whenever they want it.

ESSO Chicken Charcoal is as necessary for the health of your poultry as grit.

We can furnish you with any quantity you want, and there is nothing you can feed your birds for scurrying like as few cost as ESSO Chicken Charcoal that will keep them in as good condition.

For Sale by... LEO HAYDON

Dr. G. T. Burton

RESIDENT DENTIST.

Teeth Extracted Without Pain.

CROWN WORK A SPECIALTY.

All Dental Work Strictly First-Class. Springfield, — Ky.
Office in Bagon Block upstairs.

Local News Notes.

Bring me your butter eggs, and produce. J. A. Shader.

New School Hats and "Tans" at Mrs. Williams.

ESTRAY.—A Brindle, heifer, weight about 350 pounds, strayed on my place about Sept. 20. Owner can have same by paying charges. S. P. Derringer.

Sherman Martin, who lives near town brought into the Sun office Monday morning a bunch of full bloomed apple blossoms. On some the apples have already formed. This is quite a novelty in the month of October.

When in need, of Fruits, Vegetables and Groceries Telephone 106-3 J. A. Shader's Grocery.

Get you a new C-B Corset at Mrs. Williams.

BIRTHS.—Born, to the wife of D. A. Kelly, on Oct. 3, 1910, a daughter.

Born, on Oct. 1, 1910, to the wife of Joe Hagan, twin boys. One of the little ones died in a few hours after birth, but the mother and the other babe are doing nicely at present.

During the illness of her father, Mr. J. A. Shader, Miss Gertrude Shader, has charge of the store. She invites her friends to call and see her when wanting groceries.

"What everybody says must be true." Mrs. Williams has the most stylish hats at the lowest possible prices.

Three large sales were held last week all of which were well attended and at which good prices were realized for the stock disposed of. Giddard Grundy's sale was held on Wednesday, Tom Montgomery's on Thursday, and Thurman & Peters on Saturday. S. M. Campbell carried the two first sales and Capt. T. D. English the Thurman & Peters sale.

FOR SALE.—At the Court house door in Springfield, on October 24, at 2 o'clock p. m., I will sell 1 share of Capital stock in the Central Bank of Willisburg, Ky. Will sell on credit of 6 or 12 months, as suits the purchaser. Not bearing 6 per cent interest, payable in People's Deposit Bank, of Springfield, will be required. For further information call at the Sun office.

"Mound City paints may cost a little more, but—Mr. Leo Haydon."

FOR SALE OR RENT.—A farm containing 118 acres. Good dwelling, ten pastures, 3 good barns, good orchard, good land for all kinds of crops, during 1911. This is one of the best tobacco farms in the county. For further particulars call on or address

S. P. DERRINGER,
Springfield, Ky.

For first-class Cleaning and Pressing Ladies and Gents Garments call on SPRINGFIELD CLEANING AND PRESSING CLUB. GEO. G. GOWDY, Prop.

The Sun and Courier-Journal, $1.50
The Springfield Sun, $1.00 per year

CELLISSUE TONIC
A BODY BUILDER
FOR THE CELLS AND TISSUES
A POWERFUL STRENGTH PRODUCING RECONSTRUCTIVE TONIC FOR THE BLOOD AND NERVOUS SYSTEM
GUARANTEED TO GIVE SATISFACTION OR MONEY REFUND

Keep Sickness Out of Your Poultry Yard.

The best way to keep sickness out of your poultry yard is to keep ESSO Chicken Charcoal where your birds can get it whenever they want it.

ESSO Chicken Charcoal is as necessary for the health of your poultry as grit.

We can furnish you with any quantity you want, and there is nothing you can feed your birds for scurrying like as few cost as ESSO Chicken Charcoal that will keep them in as good condition.

For Sale by... LEO HAYDON

Winter

Is at

Your

Door!

And every Housekeeper should be considering the best and most economical way of heating the house this winter. With the price of Coal soaring higher each day it is important that you select the stove that will give the most heat with the least fuel. We handle the both perfect in construction and ornaments to any home. We also handle other makes in all styles and sizes. Call and see our line and get our prices.

"Radiant Home" and "Moore's Air Tight"

Shultz & Cleaver.

A Timely Suggestion

See what castings you need for that old stove and have them ordered before cold weather.

HAIR HEALTH.

If you Have Scalp or Hair Trouble Take Advantage of This Offer.

We could not afford to so strongly endorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if it did not do all we claim it will. Should our endorsement carry us away, and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users, they would lose faith in us and our statements, and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.

We assure you that if your hair is beginning to prematurely fall out or if you have any scalp trouble, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will promptly eradicate dandruff, stimulate hair growth and prevent premature baldness. Our faith in Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we ask you to try it on our positive guarantee that your money will be cheerfully refunded if it does not do as we claim. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold only at our store. The Rexall store. The Haydon & Willett Drug Co.

We have a number of farms for sale at prices from $500 to $2,000. Good tobacco farms, stock farms, all kinds of farms. See us for city property in Bardtown.

ORVILLE ARNOLD OR BE. DEATR, Bardtown, Ky

The Call of the Blood.

For purification find voice in pimples, boils, a foul complexion, a jaundiced look, moth patches and blotches on the skin—all signs of liver trouble. But Dr. King's New Life Pills make rich red blood; give a clear skin, rosy cheeks fine complexion, health. Try them. 25c at Haydon & Robertson's.

PUBLIC SALE

Live Stock and Farming Implements

Having decided to quit farming I will, on the premises 3 miles East of Springfield, Ky., on

THURSDAY, OCT. 6, 1910

At 10 o'clock, a. m.

offer for sale to the highest bidder the following personal property:

Three 4 year-old mare mules.
Two 3-year-old horse mules
Five 2-year-old mare mules
Five yearling mare mules
One 3-year-old horse
One 2-year-old horse
Three brood mares and colts
One 3-year-old brood mare
Two registered Shorthorn cows
One registered Shorthorn heifer
Three grade cows.
Jersey cow
Two-year old steer
Two yearling steers
Four grade calves
Two Jersey Heifers
Four Brood Sows
Poland China Boar
42 Feeding Hogs, 100 to 200 pounds
One new Case Separator, 2'x26" wind stacker and feeder
New Case Engine, 15 horse power
Hay Baler, 17x22
Two Deering Binders
Two mowers
Two Push Rakes
One self dump rake
Four two horse wagons
One one horse wagon
Wheat Drill with fertilizer and seed attachment
Corn Drill with fertilizer attachment
1 new wheat and orchard grass fan
Two corn shellers
One new Cedar Mill
Four Hay Frames, 1 Disc Harrow
1 seedling harrow, 1 roller
2 Cutting Boxes, 1 corn cutter
Two pair wire stretchers
2 Scrapers, 1 Dipping Tank
1 Buggy, 1 Runabout
Plows, Tools, etc.
150 Tons of Hay
200 bushels of Corn to be delivered at the scales on the farm

Terms of Sale:

All sums under $11 Cash. Over that amount on a credit of six months with note with good personal security and bearing interest from date of sale and due and payable at either bank in Springfield.

DINNER ON THE GROUNDS

T. D. ENGLISH, Auctioneer. L. A. BURNS.

How Is This?

It's a Good One

And if you care for good reading you will not miss the opportunity!

Those who know have taken advantage of it. See samples at this office and you will do the same thing. Study this offer and see what a value in good reading we are offering you. It is good until Nov. 1st, and is as follows:

WE OFFER YOU:

Home and Farm, the South's Greatest Agricultural Paper.
For one full year, price.....$.50
Uncle Reminis Home Magazine, a Southern Magazine
For one full year, price.....1.00
Good Housekeeping, for Home and Housewife.
For one full year, price.....1.50
The Daily Evening Louisville Post,
For full three months, price.....1.25
The Springfield Sun, Your Home Paper.
For one full year, price.....1.00
Total price for all five papers.....$5.25

WE OFFER YOU ALL FIVE PAPERS UNTIL NOVEMBER 1 FOR ONLY $2.00

Did you ever see another offer to equal it, No! and you will find many an hour's reading this winter for less money than you will ever get again.

Don't delay, as this offer is limited to a short time.

SEND CHECK, PAPER MONEY OR MONEY ORDER AT ONCE

THE SUN, Springfield, Ky.

New Fall Goods

The ROBERTSON-CLAYBROOKE CO

(INCORPORATED)

Are now being received by us daily, and each day we are opening for your inspection one of the most attractive lines of Dry Goods, Dress Goods, Silks, Trimmings, Novelties and Notions we have ever shown.

We are now showing an extra snappy line of Men's and Boy's Suits and Overcoats, Shoes, Hats, Shirts and Ties.

Don't fail to see our stock of Ladies' Suits and Coats before buying. We will be delighted to show you.

Advance Sale of Millinery

We will make Special Low Prices on all our Millinery, Coat Suits & Skirts Friday and Saturday. Don't fail to come in.

HARDIN'S CHAPEL.

Miss Regina Rudd, the school teacher at this place, fell down an embankment one day last week and sprained her ankle severely. She is improving and is able to walk without the aid of crutches.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fenwick and daughter dined with R. P. Lanham recently.

Several from here attended church in Mackville last week.

H. L. Litsey is able to be out again, also Mrs. Nellie Logsdon is better.

Returning from church Sunday morning Lena and Margie Fenwick had a narrow escape from being drowned. Pleasant Run was up and past the ford stage and they were compelled to go around by Texas to get home. The branch that runs across the road by Lloyd Haydon's was very deep on the pike; three buggies crossed in front of them and the water covered the wheels but they concluded to try it. After they had driven into the water the horse became unruly and forced the buggy into deeper water, the swift current almost overturning it. The girls drove out safely, however, but received a thorough drenching.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fenwick and daughter, Juanita, spent the night recently with G. M. Fenwick and family.

Miss Lizzie Sweeney, of Louisville, spent last week with Mrs. Nellie Logsdon.

Miss Jennie Litsey spent Friday afternoon with the Misses Fenwick.

Mrs. Bettie Canary, Mrs. Alfred Whitman and daughter, Mrs. Arthur Whitman, Mrs. Fannie Coyle and daughter, Lena, Mrs. Merion Sweeney and daughter, Bessie, were entertained at dinner on Wednesday last by Mrs. Nellie Logsdon.

Mrs. Arthur Whitman, Miss Bessie Sweeney, Miss Lena Coyle and Miss Hattie Logsdon spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Annie Hiatt.

Miss Lizzie Sweeney spent Thursday and Friday with Mrs. Lucy Sweeney.

Mrs. R. P. Lanham and Mrs. Brack Yaste spent Thursday with Mrs. Bettie Canary.

Misses Lizzie Sweeney and Hattie Logsdon spent Friday with Mrs. J. E. Anderson.

M. B. Hardin and Walter Logsdon spent Saturday and Sunday with Nick Hardin.

Miss Hattie Logsdon and brother, Mord, spent Sunday with the family of S. G. Logsdon.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fenwick and daughter spent Sunday night of last week with G. W. Fenwick and family. Miss Mittie and niece, Jewel Hiatt, and Mrs. Lucy Sweeney spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Bud Coffey.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Clark and children, Gertie, Virgil and Rave, spent Sunday with Howard Masters and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Padlock and son, Herman, spent Sunday with Bud Coffey.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Mitchell and son, Kenneth, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Masters.

Miss Mattie Tobin is spending this week with her sister, Mrs. Albert Rudd.

Mrs. Lizzie Tobin spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Ben Haydon.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has become famous for its cures of coughs, colds, and influenza. Try it when in need. It contains no harmful substance and always gives prompt relief. Sold by all druggists.

DEEP CREEK.

The farmers in this vicinity are about through cutting their tobacco and housing it.

Mrs. Thibie Coyle is very ill at this writing.

Mrs. Kattie Carpenter was the guest of Mrs. Mattie Harmon last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Holdman entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Key, of Jenson-town, spent last week with his son, G. W. Key.

Mrs. Maggie Coyle spent last Friday night with her brother, Oda Coyle.

G. W. Key sold a yoke of oxen to Will Hatchett at 44 cents per pound.

Grover Elliott sold a heifer to Will Elliott for beef, at the market price.

Rev. H. P. Hatchett filled his regular appointment at Beech Grove church last Sunday.

Miss Susie Elliott spent last Wednesday night with Miss Nannie Burns, at Long Run.

Mrs. Dell Reynolds and children spent last Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawson.

Mrs. Coyle spent Saturday afternoon with her sister, Mrs. Thibie Coyle.

Mrs. George Cocanougher, of Long Run, spent several days last week with her son, Willie Cocanougher.

Miss Mattie Elliott, of Danville, is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Amy Carpenter.

Mrs. Mollie Coyle spent last Thursday with her son, W. E. Coyle, at Jenson-town.

W. B. Carpenter visited J. H. Elliott at Danville last Sunday.

W. V. STALLARD, D. D. S.
SPRINGFIELD, KY. PHONE 72

TEETH EXTRACTED WITHOUT Pain or Danger
All Work Done in this office is first-class and every request and fee. Over McElroy & Shader's Grocery Personal Notes.

Visitors In and Out of Town.—A Round-up of the Week's Personal News.

—Mrs. Sallie Bartle is the guest of Mrs. Ben Haydon this week.

—Miss Eunice O'Nan has returned home after a visit to her sister, Miss Sarah at Danville.

—Mr. Theo Campbell was in Lebanon Tuesday.

—Mrs. Joe Claybrooke has returned home after a visit to relatives in Bardonia.

—Mrs. Jack Thompson, of Nob Creek, is the guest of C. L. Price and family.

—Miss Margret Hagan has returned home from Louisville after spending several months.

—Miss Marie Maloney has returned to her home in Louisville after a visit to relatives here.

—Robert Bohannon spent the last of the week in Louisville.

—Dr. W. V. Stallard spent Sunday in Louisville.

—Ves Russell and Letcher Brewer, of Lebanon, spent Tuesday here.

—Walter Jeffers spent last week in Louisville.

—Miss Sue Ray visited friends in Lebanon Saturday.

—Miss Lorena Price will leave the last of the week for school in Bardonia.

—Morrie Durrett spent Sunday and Monday in Danville.

—Mrs. George W. Colvin entertained last evening at fitch in honor of Mrs. Alvin of Yazoo City, Mississippi. About twenty-five of the young people of town were invited and enjoyed the hospitality of Prof. and Mrs. Colvin.

—Roy Bateman, of Knoxville, Tenn., is visiting Miss Dolly Greger.

—Miss Sue Ray entertained at dinner yesterday evening and afterward at a musical in honor of Mr. Roy Bateman, of Knoxville, Tenn., the guest of Miss Dolly Greger. Her guests were Mrs. C. E. Batsey, Mrs. W. E. Leachman, Miss Dolly Greger, Mr. Bateman, Dr. W. V. Ray and Mr. Marshall Duncan.

TICK CREEK.

The farmers of this place are through cutting and housing tobacco.

The party given by John Gilispie and wife last Friday night was well attended and everybody reported a good time.

Mrs. W. G. Adams has sold her farm to Mr. Will Sweeney for $3550.

Mr. Will Gowin and wife, of Taylorsville, visited friends at this place last week.

Otis Miltor, and wife were the guests of S. T. Stumph and family recently.

H. M. Stumph sold a hog to Ben Haydon for $12.

Joe Lawrence, of Lebanon, was the guest of his brother, Henry Lawrence, Sunday.

James Anderson purchased a big wagon of A. C. Kimball for $65.

John Carr, of Louisville, is the guest of H. M. Stumph.

J. F. Anderson sold a mule to John Cocanougher, of Texas, for $105.

H. M. Stumph sold a pair of two year old mules to Robt. Arnold, of Texas, for $300.

Miss Mattie Tobin is the guest of her sister, Ella Rudd, of Springfield.

Miss Fannie Sweeney, of Anchorage, is visiting friends at this place.

G. W. Cocanougher purchased a sorghum mill, of Campbell & Walker, of Mackville, for $24.

Ladies! Save Money and Keep in Style by Reading McCall's Magazine and Using McCall Patterns

McCall's Magazine will help you to make up your own home, with your own hands, clothing for you and children, and will be perfect in style and fit. Price—more than 25 cents. Send for the Free Pattern Catalogue. We will give you Free Patterns for getting subscriptions to our magazine. Send the Free Premium Catalogue and Cash Price Offer. THE McCALL COMPANY, 229 N. 4th St. 27th St., NEW YORK

Bowling Alley For Sale or Rent!

As our other business requires all our attention we have decided to sell or rent our bowling alleys. The alleys are in first-class condition and is a money-making business.

Leachman & Campbell's Furniture Store

VALLEY HILL.

S. P. Thompson recently purchased an 800 lb steer from J. B. Gostley at 44c per pound.

Mr. H. Gostley purchased a suckling mule from A. B. Walker last week at $125.

Jas. Moran, Jr., sold a sow and pigs Saturday for $50.

Mrs. T. C. Tatum and sister, Miss Madge Laird, of Louisville, were the guests of W. F. Moran, at Elm Hill, Friday.

Miss Imogene Gostley was the week end guest of her cousin, Miss Pearl Gostley.

The sale of W. G. and Lida Grundy, on the 29th ult, was very well attended and everything sold well.

Joe Shehan visited his brother, Hark, at Mooresville, Sunday.

T. B. Jones and family, of Springfield, were week end guests of relatives at this place.

Brown and Tatum recently sold a bunch of cattle to Geo. Abell, of Nelson county, for a remunerative price.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Reed, of Booker, were guests of their parents, M. Reed and wife, of this place, Sunday.

Some consternation has reigned in this section since the report became current that tobacco buyers had been authorized to pay about an average of 3c per lb for tobacco. This may be worthy of consideration but we do not give it credence. It is possible, but hardly probable, that the American Tobacco Co. would resort to such a drastic measure in the face of the fact that the growers would pool their entire crop and force the A. T. monopoly to the wall.

A number of bargain hunters from this place attended the stock sale of Thomas Montgomery at Fredericksburg last Thursday. All returned with the report that prices soared high. Jeff Gostley purchased a heifer at $21.00.

J. R. O'Neal and family, of this place, were the guests of relatives at Crook's station, Sunday.

Jas. Moore, of Mooresville, was in our section on business the first of the week. Robert Vivian and Bradley Tatum were guests of their uncle, T. C. Tatum, Sunday.

M. Reed and wife have rented their farm for the ensuing year and will remove to Springfield to reside. Mr. and Mrs. Reed are excellent neighbors and we all regret their departure.

Corn cutting is the order of the day in this section. Wheat ground is being prepared and rye and grass seeds are being sown.

The pleasant purgative effect experienced by all who use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and the healthy condition of body and mind which they create, makes one feel joyful. Sold by all druggists.

PLEASANT GROVE.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Polin are entertaining to-day in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Polin. The writer extends congratulations to this very popular young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, of Ohio, arrived Sunday for a visit to Mr. Campbell's sister, Mrs. S. C. Vanarsdale.

Mrs. W. P. Merritt is giving a show-er to-day for Miss Ellen Gregory. Mesdames B. L. Litsey, J. L. Martin and J. H. Hopper are in Louisville for a few days.

Miss Ellen Gregory spent last week with Miss Frances Martin in Springfield.

Miss Margie Graham is at the home of Mrs. L. M. Gregory.

Rev. H. L. Hudson will preach at Pleasant Grove Sunday.

Mrs. W. P. Merritt's father, Rev. Mr. Wright, visited her last week.

Mrs. L. M. Gregory visited her daughter, Miss Della Ray, at St. Catharines last Thursday.

Captain Mueson, of Perryville, is at the home Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Hardisty. C. L. Grundy and family spent Sunday with B. S. Leachman.

B. B. Leachman is attending the Owensboro Fair this week.

A tonic that invigorates both old and young. For weak, nervous, men and women. Every bottle guaranteed. Get it TO-DAY.

HAYDON & ROBERTSON

Fresh Every Day

Hot Rolls,
Light Bread,
Cream Bread,
Rye Bread,
and all kinds of
Fancy Cakes

By calling us any morning at eleven o'clock.

TELEPHONE

69

And your order will be promptly attended to and delivered.

KATIE HERTLEIN & BRO.

When down town try one of our GRAPE JUICES.

THE DRY FALL OUTING!

$3.75
Round Trip From Springfield

AND ALL WAY STATIONS
Regular train 6:30 a. m.

ALL ABOARD FOR MAMMOTH CAVE!

Wednesday, October 12
One evening for promenade or dance

$5.50
Pays All Your
Hotel Expenses

Including board and the admissions to the Cave.

SEE Large BILLS For PARTICULARS

Write or Phone L. & N. Ticket Agent

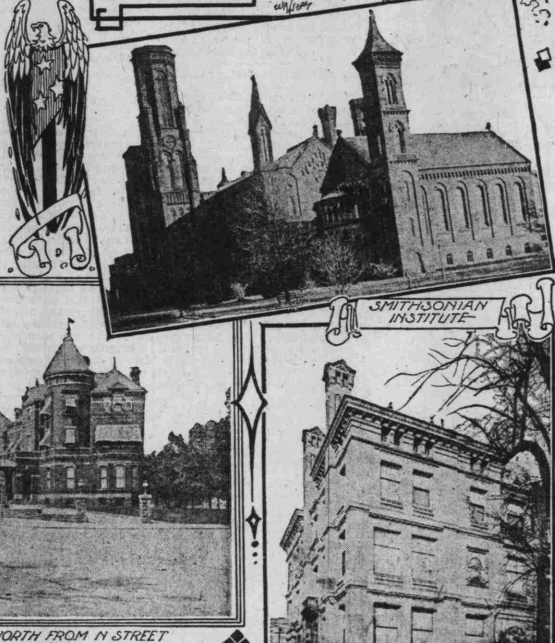

THE SILVER PURSE

by EDWARD B. CLARK

Copyright, by W. A. PATTERSON

WHEN you take in the city of Washington what the unregenerate call a "rubber-neck wagon" your course is bound to lead by the Cosmos club. Until the Metropolitan club built its new quarters, its building was situated near that which houses the Cosmos members. It was the great delight of the information giver on the sightseeing automobile to declare to the passengers that the Metropolitan club, which you see on your right, is the home of the nobles, and the Cosmos club, which you see on your left, is the home of the cranks.

Presumably scientists have become accustomed to being dubbed cranks by the unthinking. It has been a long, hard struggle at times for some scientists to get recognition from the world. The Cosmos club has a membership which includes some of the greatest scientists of the United States, and, in its non-resident membership, some of the greatest scientists of the world.

CONNECTICUT AVENUE - LOOKING NORTH FROM N STREET

There are botanists, astronomers, ornithologists, and, in fact, scientists of all kinds and descriptions, to be found nightly in the great, sweeping parlors of the club's quarters. There is just as much hospitality and jollity in the club as there is to be found in the rooms of any social organization in the world—and learning besides there, also. In order to be a member of the Cosmos club you must have something besides money and social standing. It is probable that there are many members of other organizations in Washington, who would be willing to throw their memberships into the deep sea, if the act would buy for them admittance into the club of these scientists.

PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE - LOOKING EAST FROM TREASURY DEPARTMENT

taken a company of naturalists to Alaska with him as his guests. He had had a delightful time with the scientists and they had profited much in a knowledge way by the trip to comparatively new fields. I found that Mr. Harriman was keenly interested in birds, trees, shells, flowers, stones and mammals, and that he knew and appreciated nature in all its forms. That was the only time I ever saw E. H. Harriman, but from what he said during the two hours and a half spent in his car that winter night I was not at all surprised when I found out that he had provided a fund for zoological research.

Across Lafayette square, due west from the Cosmos club, in the vacant Decatur mansion. This house was built by Commodore Stephen Decatur in the year 1819, and it was from its portals that he went forth one year later to meet his death at the hands of James Barron, also a naval officer, who was in command of the United States ship Chesapeake at the time it was overhauled by the British ship Leopard and searched for alleged deserters from the British navy.

Books have been written about Lafayette square, but the stories that are told about the men whose statues are in the square, and about the men who lived in the houses surrounding it, are endless, and not all of them, perhaps, have found their way into print. The statue of Lafayette was erected at one corner of the square not long after the statue of Andrew Jackson had been put in place in the center of the square, provided a square can be said to have a center. Lafayette visited America in 1825, and even to-day one hears occasionally of some living person who remembers his visit.

Not long ago there died in Chicago, at her home on Elm street, the aged Mrs. Davidson. She was born in Charleston, S. C. Her maiden name was Ancrum; she was a granddaughter of Col. William Washington, a first cousin of George Washington. It was William Washington who fought at the battle of the Clouds, fought a hand-to-hand fight with Colonel Tarleton of the British forces. Colonel Washington succeeded in cutting off the thumb of Tarleton's sword hand, and thus there was interference which separated the combatants.

Lafayette was a strong personal friend of William Washington, and when he visited Charleston in the year 1825 he was a guest at the Ancrum residence, Mrs. Ancrum, the mother of Mrs. Davidson, then a child six or eight years old, remembered the visit perfectly and kept until she died a present which Lafayette had given to her, the grandchild of his old friend and comrade in arms.

There is no statue of Washington in Lafayette square, though one day there may be, for it is said to be possible that Andrew Jackson may be put elsewhere and George Washington may be put here. The nearest physical approach, so to speak, that one gets to the first president, in Lafayette square, is in the White House, which fronts it. It may not be generally known that the White House was completed before Washington died. It was only a few days before his death, as Washington tradition has it, that George and Martha Washington walked through the recently completed White House, to give their approval or disapproval, as it may be, of the arrangement of the rooms. It is possible that that visit to the capital was the last one which the Father of his Country made, for it was only a short time afterward that he died in his country seat, Mount Vernon.

Reference to Mount Vernon brings to mind the fact that there is living in Washington today an aged man named John Lane, who is the only living person who ever saw George Washington. Now, inasmuch as the Father of his Country died 111 years ago, this may seem to be something pretty close to a false statement on its face, but it is the truth nevertheless.

When John Lane was a small boy the driver of a stage that ran between Washington and Mount Vernon asked the lad if he wanted a ride, and the answer was a fairly clattering up to the seat of honor by the driver. The boy made the trip all the way to Mount Vernon and arrived there just as they were removing the body of Washington from the old tomb to the new one. In order to make certain that the remains had not been tampered with by shrews who not long before had broken into the old tomb, the gifts was opened and John Lane, aged two, was lifted up to look on the face of the Father of his Country. Mr. Lane today is the only person who survives of the little company which was present at the transfer of the body.

She.

A sunny sparkle in a pool.
A flash and a surprise.
A mist that's drawn across the stars,
Her eyes.
A touch of vapor and of fire,
A humming bird that dips,
The torrid tawdriness from the rose,
Her lips.
A garden filled with fadeless flowers,
Where lilacs bloom apart,
The wonder is that garden's mine—
Her heart.

—J. C. Gerndt, in Smart Set Magazine.

The Silver Purse

By TEMPLE BAILEY

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press

It was fate that made Juliet's birthday and that of her prospective mother-in-law come in the same week. It is not expected that the course of true love will run smooth, and, heretofore, the love affair of Juliet had had no uneven places. She loved her betrothed, he loved her, and they both loved his mother.

Now and then a little jealousy of Carter's mother crossed Juliet's mind. The older woman was fascinating and beautiful in a way that Juliet had never seen and never could be. Juliet was pretty and fresh and pink and white, while Carter's mother was stately and classic.

The two women talked of the son and lover who was in the far west, and planned for his homecoming.

"He will get here in our birthday week," the mother said, "and we will have two cakes; a white one for you and a gold cake for me. You shall have white candles and I'll have yellow ones, and we will have jonquils and lilies of the valley in the middle of the table."

Their disappointment came when Carter wrote that he could not get back in time for the celebration. He sent a box with his letter. In it was silver paper and a set of Browning's The two cards told that the purse was for Mrs. Crowell, the books for Juliet.

Juliet eyed the silver purse wistfully. She had wanted one for years, and Carter knew it. She felt a little hurt that he should have sent her books. Of course on the flyleaf he had written "With love, from Carter."

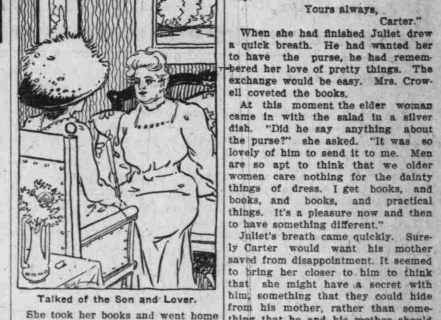

mother wants with a thing like that." The next morning Mrs. Crowell telephoned to Juliet. "I have a long letter from Carter," she said, "and I can't read it, my eyes are so bad, and you know his scrawl, my dear. 'I'll come to you.' Juliet promised, 'this afternoon and read it for you.' 'Come to lunch,' Mrs. Crowell invited, and Juliet agreed.

While Mrs. Crowell prepared the lunch Juliet looked over the letter. "It's a little hard to make out," she called to the older lady in the other room. "I'll read it aloud when I have deciphered it."

As she read a flush came to her cheeks and a light to her eyes, for this was the letter.

"Mother Dear: I have just received a note from Juliet. In it she thanks me for my gift of Browning's poems. I also have a letter from you in which you thank me for a purse. Now, as a matter of fact, I sent the silver purse to Juliet, and the poems to you—do you know how you love Browning? I am so sorry that you should have been disappointed because I intended you should have the books you have so long coveted. But Juliet seems so pleased that I hate to tell her of her mistake. Will you buy yourself a book? I want Juliet to have pretty things, yet knowing her, I feel that if I explain she will feel it necessary to return the books to you and to take the silver purse which would mean so much less to her. Some day I can give her all the trifles to wear that she needs, and she has called the books 'precious.' So don't tell her anything about it. I'll write again soon and give you the news; this is simply to correct my blunder. I suppose the cards were mixed in some way.

Yours always, Carter."

When she had finished Juliet drew a quick breath. He had wanted her to have the purse, he had remembered her love of pretty things. The exchange would be easy. Mrs. Crowell coveted the books.

At this moment the elder woman came in with a card in a silver dish. "Did he say anything about the purse?" she asked. "It was so lovely of him to send it to me. Men are so apt to think that no older women care nothing for the dainty things of dress. I get books, and books, and books, and practical things. It's a pleasure now and then to have something different."

Juliet's breath came quickly. Surely Carter had not done that. Her mother saved from disappointment. It seemed to bring her closer to him to think that she might have a secret with him, something which could hide from his mother, rather than something that he and his mother should hide from his sweetheart.

"Read the letter," the older woman said as they sat down to the table, and Juliet read it, making up as she went along sentences which told that she was glad she liked the things, glad that Juliet liked the books and said nothing of his mistake. After that she changed the subject of marriage and Juliet's plans for it.

When Juliet went home she wrote to her lover and told him all about it—how she loved the purse, and how his mother had delighted in the silver purse.

"I want her to keep it," she said, "and you must not send me another to make up to me, for I like to feel that it is my gift to your mother as well as yours. Some day I'll give her a set of Browning and then she will have both things, and never know the difference."

The letter that came from him repaid her for her sacrifice. "I am going to take you at your word," he said, "and let you do without the purse."

But on their wedding day, besides the diamond pendant that he gave her, there was another gift. Wrapped in tissue paper and the wire with ribbon, it made a rather bulky package. Within she found a golden bag, all glittering metal and sparkling stones. It was a thing beautiful enough for a duchess, a thing a prince might have presented to the lady he loved. Juliet's gift of the purse, which had given her the greatest gift of all—his heart's best and purest adoration.

Money Saved to Apple Growers.

Exporting low grade apples for export has lately had a good start in the apple-producing districts of Tasmania, and promises much increase. During the last year on account of the establishment of several good apple evaporating plants, utilizing up-to-date American machinery, about $500,000 was saved to apple growers by not being thrown away as unsalable waste on account of low grade.

cheapest. Phone 1 long 1 short Lebanon Exchange.